Ottawa. April 17.—Refusal to withdraw statements he had made Monday, concerning the editor of The Winnipeg Free Fress was the reply of Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, when requested in the Commons yesterday afternoon by Liberal Leader MacKenzie King to make a retraction. The minister declared John W. Dafos, editor of the Free Fress, had "consistently falsified the record" and "lied" about him.

"I don't intend to allow the editor of this paper or anyone eise to call me a traitor to my country," said by Manion. "I don't intend to retract anything."

Manion. "I don't intend to retract anything."

Mr. Eing said he thought the privilege of a member of parliament had been abused too much recently in reflections on the character of ton outside the House and thought Dr. Manion should retract his statements of Monday or explain he was speaking in an exaggetated manner.

"What about the member for South Perth (P. O. Sanderson) calling Bestly public enemy number one?" Shouted a Conservative member.

Mr. King explained his remarks were not directed particularly at Dr. Manion or at Gonervative member. Such remarks had sometimes been based by Liberals.

Speaker Howman ruled Dr. Manion was within his rights and need not retract.

RANCHER EARL PLANS TO FLY

Youthful Holder of Egmont Title Expects Soon to Be Alberta Aviator

Alberta Aviator

Calgary, April 17.—The quiet of an Alberta ranch may be preferred by the Eleventh Earl of Egmont. (Frederick George Moore Percival), to his sancestral state on the Eliver Avon in England, but when it comes to travel he likes to "his the high spots."

Alberta's rancher earl, who attained his majority this week, making him master of an estate whose value is placed at more than $1,000,000. contemplates the purchase of an airplane, according to his friends.

The young earl has had motorcycles that could "hit" near the 100-mile an hour mark, and to-day is the owner of one of the featest automobiles in the foothills country—the only one of its kind in Alberta—but now he would like to enjoy the thrills of flying. He examined a number of planes, and sood may be soaring over the ranch lands of southern Alberta.

Born twenty-one years ago on an Alberta ranch near Frieddis, twenty miles southwest of here, the Earl spends most of his time in the south country, with frequent visits to Calgary. He succeeded to the title after the death of his father, victim of an automobile secident in England in 1932. His father had been an Alberta rancher for twenty-six years.

SPANNING THE PACIFIC

WITH THE ARRIVAL OF THE CLIPper airplane Pioneer at Honolula in less than insteen hours after its departure from Alameda, the inst stage in the inauguration of transpacific aerial, and carrying more than a hundred pounds of mail, the inneer reached Pearl Harbor just before 10.30
'clock, Pacific dandard time, and the people of the favanian islands to whom some of the mail was delreased, are now reading letters which were disstacked from the Californian town between three and our o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Pienest, however, has a long way yet to go of the she will reach Canton, her ultimate destination, at after leaving Henolulu she will not have as long course to make without stopping as that which she bready has covered, since she is scheduled to alight at lidway and Gassa islands. There is every indicase, therefore, that we are at the beginning of a sal transportific transportation service by air which fill reduce the time of passenger travel and the consynance of mail and express baggage between this untiment and the Orient at certain seasons of the year is three or four days. The flight between California and the Hawstian Islands already has become a summoniface. There is something very inspiring in the prospect of people being able to travel from this summant to the midpacific in less than a day.

Aviation progress is one of the outstanding phomens of modern progress, for it is encompassed thin the span of a single generation. It is only a w years since people scoffed at the experiments of w Wright brothers and insisted that nothing heavier an air could possibly operate for any considerable me above the earth. The advent of the motor car terved a similar salute from unimaginative and unorgensive minds, although it must be confessed that a regument magainst the airplane had a much more iment against the airplane had a much more ial basis than the objection to the motor car rating in the air and the other on the land.

Within the next generation, regular air transports-across the Pacific will be no more of a novelty a similar travel from coast to coast on this coasimilar travel from coast to coast on this con-nt or in the Old World, where, it will be noted in timent or in the Old World, where, it will be noted in the dispatches, eminent statemen fly from capital to expital in their international missions—a far cry from enthodog railway and steamship transportation, and a much further cry from the sailing ship and stage coach, which operated not more than a century ago. The time will come—and it will not be long either—when most first-class passenger travel will be by air, with milroad cars and steamships being reserved mainly for the transportation of freight.

THE RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE Council of the League of Nations arraigning Germany, was sponsored by Britain, France and Italy, and approved by all the members of the council cave Denmark. That country's representative, Dr. Puter Munch, wanted the resolution modified by striking out the specific references to Germany as they applied to the violation of treaties. He was unable to rry his point so he abstained from voting.

The stand of Denmark is worth noting for more than one reason. Denmark is a country of approximately 3,750,000 people with an armed police and hir force of 14,136 of all ranks. Her navy, mainair force of 14,136 of all ranks. Her navy, maintained purely for coast defence, is almost a toy affair. But she does not worry about her powerful neighbors; she is rather inclined to boast about her vulnerability. Her seritory juts out from Germany's frontier and is washed on the east by the Baltic Sea and on the west by the North Sea. Although there never has been any suggestion that Germany might like to gobble her up, it is only natural that Denmark's representative on the Lague Council should desire to abstain from any action at Geneva likely to cause bad feeling between Copenhages and Berlin.

The resolution passed by the League Council records the fact that Germany has not lived up to her international obligations and condemns all unilateral repudiation of international engagements. It says that any new repudiation of treaties likely to imperil peace should induce the members of the League to take "adequate steps" within the framework of its covenant; that the Council should appoint a sub-committee to devise the economic and financial action which could be employed in case of any future repudiation.

Unfortunately, while this is going on at Geneva, here remains us the record the military adventure—is mentioned in these columns yesterday—of Japan to Chinese territory, while Italy, one of the subscribers to the resolution condemning Germany, has a linguist with Ethiopia, a member of the League. On his aspect of the discussion it is worth while to consemplate the observation of Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's able delegate to the Council, who questioned whether the specific references to Europe in the resolution would not imply that other continents were left free to violate treaties.

Sir John Simon, Britain's Foreign Secretary, re-

Stetoria Buily Cimes has in a precial way it would appear the fact that Commany appearantly moved by what the statement published at lems in a practical way it would appear that he lest sight of the fact that Germany apparently remains unmoved by what the statesman gathered at Geneva have now done or propose to de.

Advices from Berlin today bear out this suggestion. Germany does not intend to recognize the resolution peaced by the League of Nations Council. She refuses to acknowledge the soft impeachment. Could any other result have been expected? Germany, therefore, still will consider she in the injured party—and, emphasizing this attitude, we are told that she will go her own way and required any future international negatiations, as far as the is concerned, looking toward permanent peace as futile.

If Germany shall persist in this attitude, if she shall regard the Geneva resolution as a gesture against her, a new attempt to encircle her, what can the powers who voted in support of the League Council's action do about it encept to continue their efforts for the premetion of the collective security system in such circumstances as to make it impossible for Prussianism under Histerien to run amok as it did under Hohensellerium in 1914? The whole course of Nazisan, with its suppression and strutting chauvinism at home, and its compairacies in Austria, Danzig and Lithuania, implies a quality of German leadership which would upset the peace of Europe temorrow if it dared. If Germany purged herself of the elements which have isolated her from the goodwill of the world, she would be welcomed into the Council of Nations, and accorded the same measure of sympathy she received in the days of Stresemann.

DELAY MAY BE COSTLY

IT MAY NOT BE GENERALLY REAlized that the postponement of the general election in Canada until after Premier Bennett comes back from Great Britain—and, too, after the session has dragged on until the middle or late summer—very probably will mean, as The Ottawa Citizen warns,
"another winter of hardship...owing to the delay in allowing the will of the people to express itself."

The obvious deduction the electorate will make,
of course, is that the government is hoping something will turn up which will be likely to improve its chances of success at the polls.

After all, the people of Canada are not being fooled by this hanging on to office, a practice which has met with the most disastrous results for the hangerson in recent years. The government will get nowhere by offering ramshackle subterfuges.

There is on the record since the Bennett Government took office a complete political turnover in Nova Scotia, British Columbia, Ontario and Saskatchewan, while federal by-elections have shown conclusively that the present administration at Ottowa is almost wholly discredited. IT MAY NOT BE GENERALLY REAdiscredited.

On top of these signs of the swing of the political pendulum, of course, is the fact that the promises which Mr. Bestiett made in 1930 have not been carried out. The promise to end unemployment, or "perish in the attempt," carries its own commentary in the present state of affairs from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

La liner Normandie, of more than 79,000 tons, with a length of 1,028 feet and a crew of 1,200 people, will arrive in New York on her maiden voyage.

She is some 4,000 tons larger and sleven feet longer than the giant Cunarder Queen Mary, which will be history. He tells me than the giant Cunarder Queen Mary, which will be ready for service shortly. These enormous vessels have no other significance than that which is associated with national prestige. They can not be operated profitably, and in view of the rapid growth of transportation by air they seem anomalous, to say the least; almost as anomalous as was the purchase by many companies of horse-carriage equipment about the time Henry Ford was making a nuisance of himself by operating his horseless vehicle on the streets of Detroit.

WINNIPEG'S PROBLEMS

Winnipeg's property assessment fell from $685,005,000 in 1915 to $515,000,000 in 1854 in aprile of many millions spent on new buildings. The assessment of the city of Tortonio increased in the same period from $565,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. That is the principal reason why this city is in a more difficult position than Toronto, why evive maleries are sleahed to heavily, why there are no many holes in the pavements and so few books in the Fublic Library, and why motoriets pay for a civic librare as well as a provincial librare. In view of a further reduction of $15,765,000 in the assessment for this year, the City Council is looking for increased revenue from another gourse.

GOVERNOE-GENERAL

To the Editor:—The correspondence to the new Governor-General access to have degenerated into a discussion of comparative projudina without respect for acknowledged constitutional authority, Certainty, new who cannot discipline themselves are the very last who are capable to exercise authority over others. There is also, as I think you will admit, a moral difference between choosing a representative authority for a good end, to an end that is supposing to be good and applying it purely for the bias of the thing.

Myself, I haven't the slightest doubt Canada will have her governors; but in the meantime, a great deal can be done by wise measures of detail, and heartfest thanks to those who really have Canada's welfare at heart. But even this will be only moving in circles, and will be abortive in the long run unless they contribute to a corresponding change of heart and love for all mankind.

TO A GOOD START __ MY FIRST CAKE COMPLETE SUCCESS __THANKS TO SWANS DOWN

HRR first cake! Light, tender, every taste a thrilling delight. Why?...Swans Down Cake Flour! Not ordinary flour—no!—but Swans Down Cake Flour! Pollow directions—then marvel how Swans Down gives your cakes added touches of perfection—amoother, lighter textures.

The reason? Well, Swans Down comes rom a special grade of wheat. Wheat with a duten so tender that the response is perfect to "quick" cake leavens. (You know that for delicate cake mixtures the tough elastic gluten in ordinary cake flours just won't do). Milled differently, it takes 100 pounds of this special wheat to make just 26 pounds of Swans Down which is sifted through finest silk until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. 27 times as fine as ordinary flour.

> Be sure to follow directions. Sift Swans Down before measuring. You'll gain 1/2 cup in every cupful of sifted Swans Down. That's because Swans Down Cake Flour is so fine.

These rules are in substantial accord with the ideas of the famous economists, Bentham and Ricarde, and, while they are not so fundamental as Smith's, are, when taken usgether, a considerable addition to the prescriptions of practical finance, even though, on occasion, it is not possible to secure their complete observance.

BEFFEOD DECATING

Bustable cape of poli tasm: "Attempts to reach the great body of wage-carners, are generally, and should be made by means of indirect taxation. The general result is that this poli and capitation form of taxation is decaying. It is altogether out of place in the modern financial guten, and he preparation. In finance has been more dangerous in its application than that which declares that the worker cannot permanently suffer from taxation."

This the payment of pull taxet is conditioned a condition of suffrage, it becomes in fact, a political tax, and is cheated not be in the sphere of municipalities to levy. Local holids have to deal with purely contomic, specific subjects, like drainage, roads, lighting water supply, health and other local needs.

It is agreed that local corporations water a ready as most deal of latitation ply, health and other local needs.

It is agreed that local corporations should retain a good deal of latitude for the conduct of their affairs, in order to accure a vigorous, independent and responsible ourlook, on the next of its citizens. On the other hand, it is recognized that their taning power is somewhat limited, by the pressure and competition of provincial and other general governments. It would appear that this tax, being political, and being difficult to collect has been handed over, by a kindly central government (sic) to municipalities for the purpose of augmenting their revenues.

It is probable that inertia and indifference explain its retention in some states.
In the Maryland Declaration of Righis is declared: "That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous

Shirley Temple At Capitol Friday

fillip of sparsiting romance, was the recipe for making Pon Film; "The Little Colond," co-starring Shirley Temple and Lionel Barrymore, which will open at the Capitol Theatre Priday. Set on a Kentucky plantation during the eventrui days following the Civil War, it has a strong plot burning with tense drama and relieved by comedy.

"Transient Lady," the famous Octavus Roy Cohen story which ran estisally in Liberty magasine, is now being shown at the Dominion Thesite. Starting with a great author and a great etory, University Pictures decided to complete the greatness of this production with a cast that is unsqualled. Gene Raymond, Henry Wull, Frences Drake and June Clayworth are seen in the featured roles. And what a performance they give!

The story of this picture is laid in a sleepy little Alabama town. A wandering trip of promoters, Miss Drake, Edward Ellis and Clark Williama, arrive in lown for the purpose of setting up a temporary roller skating rink. They run aloui of a gang of crooked politican and a murder results,

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The dream of most youngsters would be to have Janet Gaynor tell them bedtime stories.

The dream recently came true for two children, Ann Gibbons and Buster Phelpa who anuggled into their bed while the screen's thinest redhead began a "once upon a time" for their special benefit.

Even though it was for a sequence in "Bervante Entranca," now at the Pisyhouse Thesite, the fairy tale proved of absorbing interest to the pair of youngstern, and Director Frank Lloyd had no trouble in getting them to "radieber" attention.

Two receons and a skunk who found themselves members of the "acting" staff of the Metro-Coldwyn-Mayer studios during filming of the remarkable nature picture. "Bequois" (pronounced "See-quo-yah"), which is at the Capito! Theatre, didn't care if they ever got back to the wilds of the high Sierras again. For they were leading the life of Riley!

To keep the animals consent and frisky during their appearances before the camera they were pampered with as much attention as is lavished on new-born bables. Special compartments were built for them with specially thick walls to keep sounds out in the event they felt like sleeping. They were allowed to run up and d wn a runway for a certain period each day, under the watchful eye of a trainer.

Canadian Policyholders or Their Beneficiaries have Received

$800,000,000 IN THE PAST FIVE YEARS

Through their Life Insurance Savings

MORE than $160,000,000 a year — that is the sum which Canadian policyholders or their beneficiaries have received on the average, during the past five years, from Life Insurance companies in Canada. In the next five years these policyholders will receive an even larger amount.

The large payments of Life Insurance benefits, made year by year, are the result of self-sacrifice on the part of 3,500,000 Canadians-thrifty citizens who have brought their savings together in Life Insurance funds, so that they and their families would have necessary financial security for the future.

Through the distribution of Life Insurance funds, the burdens of the widows and fatherless are eased - children are educated-independence is secured for old age-families are assisted in times of financial stress.

From the national standpoint, these citizens who have joined together to provide for their own financial future through Life Insurance, have performed a public duty. Their Life Insurance savings have lessened the number of people on public relief. And the investment of their savings in Life Insurance has provided working capital for Dominion and Provincial Governments, Canadian cities and municipalities, utilities and industries, farms and homes.

In the future as in the past, Life Insurance will continue to be the "Guardian of Canadian Homes".

sions placed before the Federal Generations by the Dominion Council of the Canadian Legion, B.F.S.L., and of pension admin-istration, was given by W. G. Stone before the last general macting of the Britannia Branch.
There was every indication, for the first time since the war, the commission was carrying out its func-tions in the manner expected by Parliament and the public, as well as the ex-service men, said Mr. Stome in speaking of the reorganization of the structure of the pensions commission.

Generally speaking, under the new administration, the hearings conducted by a pension quorum throughout the country appeared to be giving general satisfaction, and arrangements had been completed whereby the hearings of those cases, wherein change of the basis of entitlement took place without notice, which were reinstated pending hearing, were being proceeded with expeditiously and in such a way that the case was presented in full with all witnesses present at the quorum hearings.

In dealing with the War Veterans' Allowance Act, it was reported that a tuling had been obtained, whereby allowances might be continued to the war veterans' allowances with the war veterans' allowances with the war veterans' allowances might now be granted in cases where there remains a possibility that medical treatment might restore employability.

At the present time there were approximately 1.697 ex-members of the forces in receipt of war veterans: allowances in British Columbia. These figures would indicate that outside of the Province of Ontario, that British Columbia has a larger number of men coming within this classification than any province in the Dominion of Canada, and in dealing with the legion's proposals that the age of those in a dependent condition be reduced from sixty to firty years of age, the legion in British Columbia realizes that this amendment would be of great assistance to a large number of families in this province.

Mr. Stone reviewed recommendations of the Dominion Council to the Dominion Covernment to veterans on the following grounds:

tions of the Dominion Courts and the following grounds:
Physically fit and vocationally qualified for employment; partially disabled as a result of war service and pensions; partially disabled, but not pensioned, and those totally disabled by age or disability.

Mr. Stone noted the report said:
"The Canadian Legion is not asking for any permanent system of dole; what is desired is that men who have seen service should be given opportunity to work to the extent of their espacity and the opportunity of bringing up their families without the stigms of passesses."

Women will deay this, yet it is true, nevertheless, that while they want their husbands to love their homes and take an intense. In them, and stay put in them of evenings, they are not utiling to concede to them any authority whatever, or the indulgence of any personal taste, or even to vive them the run of their testi-

Of course, they do these things differently abroad. There a man is the head of his house in fact as well as fancy, but in this country the husband's position in the home so had Irishman's pig. He is the gintiemin who pays the expenses of running a house, and that's about all from idea as ear.

If wife's fancy is taken by the ornate front of a new apartment building she yanks him, with his leave or without it, out of his comfortable rooms, old home into a two-by-four cubicle where he bumps into himself every time he turns around. If wife decides they must move into a fashionable neighborhood where the children will play with the right cort of little brate, the moving van backs up to the door in spite of husband's assertions that they can't afford a smart address.

The wife not only selects the home, but she allots the space in it to the various members of the family, and when she does this husband is the Forgotten Man. Not one man in ten thousand, probably not one man in a hundred thousand, has a single, solitary room in the house he supports that belongs individually to him. Nay he has not vive a closet. Often he has not even one hook in a closet that he can hang a coust on, with any certainty that when he wants it he won't have to dig. It out from under a pile of chiffon dresses and pink crepe de chine lingerie.

Bvery man would like to have a room of his very own to which he could retire and feel that he was monarch of all he surveyed. He sould like to have a place where he could have a chair that fitted the small of his back, a lamp cocked at the angle that suited his eyes and that wasn't swathed in fluidulu shades; where he could have a few shabby books that he had read as eften that he scarcely knew where the text left off and his memories began. Above all, he would like to have a sanctuary for his collection of shamps or fish hooks or wood-cuts or what-not. But unless he is of the stuff of which heroes are made and has the grit to fight through a forty years' civil war, he never gets it.

No wife will put up with such selfish feelishness in her husband, and even when she is broadminded enough technically to concede him what she calls a "den," she moves in the sewing machine and the dreamaking dummy and throws out his collection to make room for the haby's perambulates.

As for considering husband's taste in furnishing the house, she laughs to soom the mere suggestion. Naturally, he has to look at the walls and the draperies and be made comfortable or uncomfortable by the furniture, even as she does, but the only man whose preferences and feeling she considers is the interior decorator's. And if husband loves strong colors and hates pastel time, if he has a plebian liking for seeing what is on his plate when he sate instead of fumbling about in the dark for his food, why, he is just almply out of luck, that's all. He doesn't get a single electric bulls turned about for it.

Wife also considers that she alone has the right to dispense the hospitalities of the home. The first thing a bride does is to put out a "no trespassing" sign on the door for her husband's friends and spread the mat with "Welcome" on it for her own. Observe in any house that the guests are always the wife's friends, rarely the husband's. It is the wife's family who camp in the guestroom, while the husband's are invited for short visits. Nine men out of ten would no more think of inviting anyhody casually to dinner in their own houses than they would in crashing in on their neighbors, but a woman never thinks about asking her husband's permission to invite a friend in for dinner or tea.

And so it goes. How women ever managed to wrest the home from their usbands and monopolise it is a deep, dark mystery. But they have done it, DOROTHY DIX.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL To the Britors-While a number of sersons here by criticizing His Bajesty's appointment of a new resentative to rule over us have been facing themselves in a position there their loyalty may be questioned, I notice The Toronto Saturday light voices some criticism from a vacatical and highly loyal point of free when it says:

Saturday Hight, continuing its comment, states that "the change we fear will be not so much in the personal qualities of the occupant of the office as in the attitude of the people of Canada towards that occupant," as Mr. Buchan, "under whatever title he may come among us, may find it difficult to secure the desired reactions from our people than if his ancestors had worn the crunine since Charles the Second or the Sapoleonic Wars."

Canadians since Confederation, and before, have been honored by His Majesty through his appointments as their chief rulers or men of unquestioned lineage and noble position, before whom; it has become infured and habitual for them to make proper and dutiful obeisance. The editor makes clear the fear many others of its must have that although Canadians are 'westitionally respectful. So all persons with titles, yet there may be a weakening of that 'superful. It is a very real fear many ounstitutionalists have lest there should be any impairment of the impurationalists have lest there should be any impairment of the impuration of government according to British tradition in Canada as well as our chief link with Empire.

It am sure most people will agree with this concluding sentence of the Saturday Night article: 'It is quite possible, and we strongly hope, that our apprehensions of a change in the character of the vice-regal office and of the attitude towards is of the Canadian people may be unfounded." I am so sure that in the light of the unpatriotic possibilities suggested in the above. Oci. Hodgins and D'Ary Martin, who, I understand, has also been a military man, may find an honorable way. Depends largely on the health at this time.
